B. Braun Infusion Therapy at a Glance.

Safety and economy were never simpler.

With B. Braun and its OEM Division you profit from the expertise of one of the world's leading companies in international healthcare. Therefore B. Braun OEM should be your first choice for infusion therapy worldwide. B. Braun knows the most efficient way to prepare a ready-to-infuse drug from its basic ingredients. Each product on its own brings you a giant step closer to greater user safety. Used in combination, they move you forward to the smarter system by making drug administration measurably easier, more economical and much safer.

Medical devices for infusion therapy.

Discover new inroads to smarter safety and benefit from our components for every application:

- Drug withdrawal and admixture
- Infusion and transfusion accessories
- IV administration and access

System-built Solutions.

B. Braun OEM is not focusing on single products, but based on an entire system-built solution. We cover your whole drug admixture and application process which leads to therapeutic success at the best. The improvement process contributes much more than the value of single products. Together we can improve these processes and make them easy, economical and safe.

Your benefits

- Time and cost efficiency
- Needlestick injury protection
- System-built solutions with a perfect fit
- Streamlined workflows
- Minimized contamination risk for patient and staff
- Easy, economical, safe and exact processes of drug admixture, withdrawal and administration

More than medical devices.

We provide you with infusion solutions in leading containers for drug application for your needs. For example, Ecoflac® plus combines the benefits of a bag with those of a bottle. It generates a new performance class that adds safety to the drug admixture process. Moreover, our ConComp database gives you access to a unique information source for all your compatibility questions on drugs, container material and IV solutions.

Profit from our wide range of medical devices for infusion therapy from the very first.
